Pertinent Topics Discussed by H.C.

No one can accuse Premier King of being a militarist. His instincts are all the other way, yet fate has decreed that he should have to recognize actualities. He had to sponsor the expenditure of many millions for military, naval and aerial purposes, and defend it in the House and the country. At the Corps Reunion he stood at the base and took the salute from marching ex-service men—generals, majors, captains, lieutenants, non-coms, privates and war nurses. He went to Camp Borden and newspaper pictures showed him inspecting soldiers in training. Twenty-five years ago, no one would have thought, least of all he, that he should one day have to perform such duties. "O! what a revolution and what a heart must I have to contemplate without emotion that elevation—and that fall!" Miss McPhail, M.P., might exclaim.

What we say and do when in opposition is no index to what we may have to say and do when we accept the responsibilities of office. Gladstone, opposed to coercion of Ireland, had to resort to coercive measures. Disraeli having turned out Peel on the repeal of the Corn Laws, had to maintain free trade. Laurier, a convinced free trader, had, on the other hand, to continue protective tariffs. Wilson having won an election in 1916 because he kept his country out of war was obliged, six months later, to declare war. Macdonald having won an election for the preservation of the pound sterling, had to announce, one Sunday shortly after, that Britain was off the gold standard. History is full of such instances, brought about by the grim irony of events and circumstances.

France does not bother her head about the rights and privileges of French people living in Vermont or Quebec. Britain does not worry about her sons who have become citizens of other countries. Neither does Sweden or Norway or Denmark or Belgium. Germany, however, deems it a duty to look after its sons now citizens of France, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. Later, in spite of all he may say now to the contrary, Hitler will assume guardianship over Germans in Italy around the Brenner Pass. Why this paternalism? A father has a natural affection for a son who has gone to live in a foreign country but he does not think it part of his duty to interfere with that country's affairs merely because his son is living there.

The assumption of guardianship over Germans in other countries is bound to breed trouble, and is probably designed to that end. Just at present it will be exercised only in neighboring countries, but remoteness is the only bar to its exercise elsewhere. In many countries in America and Europe, Germans have settled in blocs. There was no design in that, merely the cohesive power of

FAMOUS "NINE IN A LINE" ELEVATORS HANDLING BIGGEST CROP IN SIX YEARS

Picture by Courtesy of The Lethbridge Herald

With harvest season right at its peak, thousands of bushels of wheat are being delivered every day to Vulcan's big string of elevators. This district is expected to produce in the neighborhood of one million bushels of wheat this year and all elevators have been working night and day taking in the grain. Up until the recent storm, wheat was grading very high but some bleaching has taken place and No. 2 and 3 grades are not uncommon now. An average of 18 to 20 bushels per acre is looked for in this district, which takes in 65,000 acres in crop this year. Frost has caused some damage in the Ensign district and this north-west part of the district is perhaps getting the smallest yields, from 12 to 16 bushels per acre. Yields have also been lighter than expected in the Kirkcaldy area, but the west district is producing a good crop this year and reports from the Reid Hill district, which has been hardest hit in recent years, indicate a surprising comeback, with yields of from 15 to 30 bushels per acre.

berta Wheat Pool, No. 1, capacity 85,000 bush., G. K. Greig, agent.

The above figures are given through the courtesy of the C.P.R. and it will be noted that most of the elevators are of more than double capacity. It is possible to store approximately three-quarters of a million bushels of grain in the local elevators.

At Kirkcaldy, six miles south of Vulcan, five elevators are in operation: the National, capacity 80,000 bush., W. J. Saunders, agent; the Alberta Wheat Pool, capacity 27,000 bush., O. McCurdy, agent; Western Canada Flour Mills, capacity 27,000 bush., J. Aitken, agent; Alberta Pacific, capacity 27,000 bush., L. M. Middleton, agent; and the N. Bawf Grain Co., capacity 52,000 bush., D. DeFreece, agent. The fourteen elevators at Vulcan and Kirkcaldy combined are capable of housing almost a million bushels of grain.

Hitler Declares Germany Will Take All Risks

Ominous Speech by German
Chancellor May Still Leave
Open Chance for Negotiations

In a speech which concluded an eight-day Nazi convention at Nuremberg, Chancellor Hitler declared he was ready to take all risks to deliver the Sudeten minority in Czechoslovakia from oppression, but he did not indicate his precise intentions. This was construed as leaving an opening for further negotiation.

He recalled his party's fight for power in Germany, and drove home the point that the Nazis had built Germany into a mighty nation.

Referring to Czechoslovakia, he said: "I demand that the oppression of the 3,500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia shall cease."

"The right of self-determination must be given to them!" The Arabs in Palestine "may be alone and defenceless, but the Germans in Czechoslovakia are not," he said.

"This state was founded according to democratic principles. As these democratic principles are applied, millions of people are being man-handled and suppressed. The great democracies want to convince the world that Czechoslovakia has a special political and military mission to fulfil."

"Three and a half million Germans in Czechoslovakia are being systematically ruined and doomed to slow extinction."

"The depriving of these human beings of all rights must come to an end," the Fuehrer thundered.

"I believe that the cause of European peace is not served by creating the impression that Germany is indifferent to the fate of 3,500,000 (Sudeten Germans) in Czechoslovakia," he went on.

"Let the gentlemen in London be assured of this."

"A plebiscite in Czechoslovakia," the Fuehrer said, "would only be conducted under brutal oppression."

Addressing Soldiers

In reviewing officers and men of the army and airforce, he assured them "You have the best weapons existing today. You are getting the best training and I know you have the best character. I have arrived at the comfortable knowledge that the nation again can look satisfied upon its soldiers. A new Germany stands before us and we have the good fortune to live in it. To other Germans this still is denied for the time being. Our hearts go out to them just as we know their hearts are with us."

This was seen as a strong hint that union of Sudeten German regions of Czechoslovakia and greater Germany would be the only satisfaction for

Goldfields Resident Visiting Here

After an absence of two and a half years at Goldfields, Sask., where he is employed by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., Garnet Discher is visiting in town at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Discher, and renewing acquaintances.

Production of gold at Goldfields, which is about 600 miles north-east of Edmonton, has not yet started, development work, including a two and a half million dollar hydro-electric project, still being under way. A fleet of seven airplanes is maintained by the C.M.S. company, most of the supplies for the 800 residents of the district being flown in. In the summer, supplies can be brought in by boat from the end of steel at Waterways, a distance of 300 miles. Another Vulcan boy, Robert Lundgren, is employed by the C.M.S. Co. at Waterways. Most of the facilities of the average small town are enjoyed by Goldfields residents, including two motion picture theatres. Prices on the general run of commodities are about double what one would pay in Edmonton. Deep snow and intense cold are experienced during the long winter. Mr. Discher is returning to Goldfields next week.

A particular invitation is extended to parents to remain in the Sunday school session with the children. Rev. M. Dobson, B.A., minister of the United Church, will begin a series of Bible studies on "The Bible as the Word of God." A Christianity that is not founded on the Bible is no Christianity; to profess Christianity without regard to God's word can be no true Christianity. It is not sufficient to read the Bible. We are told that we must study to show ourselves approved of God. This series will be a study on how our Bible came to be, and its vital message to our souls. Begin this course next Sunday with the first lesson study, "Inspiration of the Bible."

Local Rifle Club Competition Sunday

The executive of the Vulcan Rifle Club is making arrangements for a competition to be held on Sunday, Sept. 18th, in order to get the club started again after the holidays. This competition will not be limited to club members and will be open to anyone who wishes to participate. The only provision made is that non-members and members who have not submitted rating must fire one target before entering the competition in order to determine the class in which they will shoot.

The entrants will be divided into three groups, Senior, Tyro and Green-shot, according to the standards set by the executive. There will be no entrance fee and prizes will be awarded in all three classes.

The competition will be fired on the 20 yard range and is limited to those rifles known as sporting rifles and any sights not fitted with glass may be used. The use of a sling is not allowed. Each entrant will fire three targets (10 shots to each target) from each of three positions: prone, standing and either sitting or kneeling. Ties will be shot off according to decision of executives in charge.

The competition will open at 12 o'clock noon and all competitors must be registered before 3 o'clock to participate. Targets will be supplied by the club and club ammunition must be used for his competition. Entrants who wish may fire practice targets before shooting in the competition.

All members are urged to be present and anyone interested or members from other clubs are heartily invited to attend. Time permitting, an additional competition from the prone position will be shot on special scoring targets.

Sir Edward Beatty of the C.P.R. after visiting the Valley oilfield, said that the company is giving serious consideration to requests for lower freight rates of crude to points off the main line in Saskatchewan.

Fleming of Owen Sound, S. S. Blackburn, Mount Forest; Frank Irvin of Durham; Dave William of Collingwood; Hugh Templin of Fergus. Performance records from the International Boundary to the Peace River Block will back up his statements that: (1) It saves him from 60% to 80% in fuel costs alone. (2) Its low upkeep adds substantially to his savings. (3) It enables him to get his work done on time regardless of when the soil or the crop is ready.

A "Caterpillar" Diesel Tractor of the proper size will do the same for you, whether you want it to work 5,000 or 500 hours per year. The day you start one working for you is the day it starts pulling your farm into the bigger-profit class.

WAR GODS ARE MORTAL

THERE never seems to be any difficulty in securing war materials. Nations that are bankrupt in other respects, and whose people are in straitened circumstances, are still able to continue staggering expenditures for new and greater war machines.

Although the storm of public sentiment against munition makers and their manipulations, has abated of late, or has been suppressed, their control of the world looms up above all other factors. Pre-war preparations in Europe have brought a rich harvest to private industry, from the makers of machine guns to the dispensers of iodine. And private industry on this continent will soon become aware of the money making possibilities of another good war.

Although hostile nations have had real grievances on which to base their preparations for war, there is little doubt that they have been mere pawns in the appalling campaign of expenditure. There is little doubt that the makers of war material or their agents have interjected themselves into international affairs, building up doubt and distrust, casting suspicion here and there, playing one nation against another. This supreme dominance of a few controllers must be an unwelcome thought to those who cherish delusions of man's freedom. It chills the heroic call to arms. It is the same old game played over again, by which the many are sacrificed to the greed of the few.

The only happy feature of the whole tragedy, is that even war gods are mortal. They may live longer than the victims whom they destroy, but their years are limited. They have the same maladies as other human beings, and all their wealth is unavailing to extend their span of life. They live. They die. And the world remembers them only with execration and curses.

Better to be the humblest peasant living in simplicity and even want, but with no blood on his hands, than to be a munitions trafficker whose only happiness is in breeding hate.

VALLEY OIL IN BRITISH WAR

IT is curious that British interest in the Turner valley oilfields should be announced through a German Nazi paper. This newspaper states that Britain is looking to Canada as a source of oil supply in the event of war. The large supplies at Iraq would be more or less at the mercy of conditions in the Mediterranean, which is forecast as one of the areas in which activities will concentrate. Other sources of supply are Trinidad, Venezuela and Mexico, but for various reasons these would not fulfil the needs; Turner Valley is thus viewed as the most reasonable field for development in the interest of British security.

The German view of the importance of the Alberta oilfields in Empire defence, is borne out to some degree by recent visits to the oil areas of prominent Britishers. Air Marshal Edward Ellington inspected the Valley this summer, other leaders are expected shortly. These are not disinterested tourists. They are men absorbed in strengthening British defences from every angle. The threat of war exists, and so long as it exists there must be assurance that the little island which is the pivot of British operations, should have all necessary requirements of fuel for defence.

Those interested in Turner Valley development have made many a pilgrimage overseas to interest British capital. They have had an uphill climb in proving to the world that oil wealth does exist and can be produced. Apparently even Germany recognizes that this little passed in the intervening years.

Earl Grey, then Governor General of Canada, Sir Wilfred Laurier, premier of Canada, and many other distinguished dignitaries came from far and wide to take part in the several days' celebration. Main celebrations were held at the old fair grounds at a point north of the power plant, in Edmonton.

The late Hon. G. H. V. Bulyea was appointed lieutenant-governor August 24, 1905, and on Sept. 1 he called on Hon. A. C. Rutherford, Liberal member of the legislature for Strathcona, to form Alberta's first government. Mr. Rutherford's ministry was gazetted Sept. 9th.

Mr. Rutherford, now 81, is practising law in Edmonton and is the only living member of that first cabinet. Hale and hearty, he still plays golf.

First session of the legislature was held in the old Thistle rink. Then the first legislative building was constructed. It is now the "Terrace" building, the red brick structure on the river bank below the main building. The main building had its corner stone laid in 1911 and later, in 1928, the administration building was commenced.

There have been eight legislatures elected.

In the 33 years since its formation, Alberta has seen much. Its population has increased from 374,295 at the 1911 census to 769,000 in the 1935 valley of oil, just fifteen miles away, may become one of the most important links in the chain of Empire security.

BRITISH IMMIGRATION

GENERAL HORNBY who has long been an advocate of British immigration as a solution of some Canadian problems, has found a strong ally in Henry Croft, M.P., of England, chairman of the Empire Settlement Committee. A recent scheme is to people the uninhabited central portions of B.C. with 10,000 British settlers, and a visit of inspection was made to look over available B.C. land. Under the proposed plan the land would be a free grant from the government, if necessary conditions could be complied with. The families would be settled in houses erected for them and they would be financed for two years on British capital.

It is indisputable that Canada needs more settlers, but it is equally true that such projects for British colonization in the past have not worked successfully. The settlers, probably selected without sufficient care, have not made a go of it. They have found conditions to which they would not or could not adjust themselves, and the final result was a drift to Canadian cities, or a return to England with only bitter recollections.

The Cowichan Leader points to certain considerations which must be rewarded in any large movement of settlers. One is the climate. Those who are promoting and financing settlement, as well as the settlers themselves, should have experience of winter conditions of the area in which settlement is contemplated. Another factor is Canadian debt, which settlers will be called upon to share, and which does cut into any consideration of profits.

All the conditions of marketing and the vagaries of the growing period should be known in order that the settlers might not have any "promised land" delusions. Only those born and bred to agriculture should attempt to make a living by Canadian farming. And only those capable of adjusting past knowledge to new conditions can be contented in a different environment.

There is also the adjustment to Canadian standards, customs and methods, which should not be difficult, because these were inherited in the first place from Britain and were modified merely to suit circumstances of life in this country.

A large scale scheme of settlement, financed by Britain for two years, looks like a bargain, in view of Canada's great need for settlement. But so far, the trouble has been to keep the settlers on the land, and to keep them happy and self-supporting. Two years is not a long proving time.

HIGH RIVER AIR STATION

(From The High River Times)

FOR many weeks rumors have been circulating that the High River air station is to be re-opened, and it is quite possible that there may be some intention of using the station in connection with the Calgary airport which is now in course of construction.

The High River port represents a large outlay, and it was only through reasons of economy that it was closed. At one time it was one of the most important stations in Canada, and the equipment is still good. Although it is off the regular trans-Canada route, it might serve admirably as a training school.

In the natural expansion of R.C.A.F. activities both commercially and for defense, it is inconceivable that the High River station would be overlooked. It would be a very obvious evidence of careless expenditure to instal equipment at other points when the local site is outfitted and ready.

Aside from publicity value of an airport, there would be great material advantage to the town. In the old days about thirty men were stationed here, many of these with families. It made a nice payroll, practically all of which was spent in the town. Moreover, the air men liked the town, and few of the old boys would be sorry to learn that they were to be transferred to High River.

An immediate possibility is that the British Air Force may train recruits in Canada. It would seem that the local station would be very suitable for an aviation school, for the necessary training of young flyers in the civil field as well.

High River has been on the verge of something big, a good many times in recent years, but these possibilities have just failed to materialize. If nothing materializes in the revival of the air station as an active unit of the R.C.A.F. there will be real and reasonable disappointment.

census. There are 161,872,000 acres of land and 1,510,400 acres of water or a total of 163,383,400 acres or 255,285 square miles.

After a protracted argument with Calgary, Edmonton was logically chosen as the capital of the province and the seat of the provincial university.

Premier Hepburn is determined to lift the tax burden from real estate, and will consider (1) re-enactment of amusement tax, proceeds to be collected and held by municipalities (2) municipal right to impose sales tax (3) increase of gas tax from 6 to 7 cts.

Arrowwood News

The annual fall exodus of Herronton young people has begun. Miss Margaret Green and George Trasov left to attend Calgary Normal. Misses Lorraine and Norma Randle of Farrow left to attend high school in Calgary.

Miss Eleanor Kennedy has returned to her school at Carbon.

Gerney Weber has been unfortunate to fall a victim to infantile paralysis. At the time of writing he is on the road to recovery without having suffered any paralysis of his limbs. Everybody joins in wishing this popular young lad a complete recovery. All the elevators are open and doing a steady stream of business, as combining and threshing is steadily being carried on this last two weeks.

Miss Alma Merkel is at present in Calgary visiting with her sister Mrs. Allen.

Miss Agnes Macdonald is employed in the office of the Wheat Pool in Calgary.

Mr. Hec McLean has moved his family back to Herronton where Bernice will attend high school this coming year.

A former teacher of the district, Mrs. George Clinansmith, has returned to the neighborhood and will teach the LaSalle school north of Mossleigh this coming term.

The Arrowwood school board has been fortunate in securing Miss Martha Nichols, B.A., of Medicine Hat to teach the high school at Herronton. She replaces Mr. Verne Kennedy who has taught the high school since its formation several years ago. Mr. Kennedy resigned to return this fall to the Faculty of Dentistry of Toronto University to complete his D. S. degree. Miss Nichols is a graduate of the School of Education of the University of Alberta and brings with her, an extremely high rating and standing as an efficient capable high school teacher. With a full quota of departmental options she will be able to offer the students a full and varied course of subjects.

Doing God's Work Says Prem. Aberhart

Social Credit His Lode Star And His Dream, and It Can Be Fulfilled According to Interview

H. M. Halton, graduate of Alberta University, writing in the Toronto Star, tells of an interview with Premier Aberhart. He says, in part:

"I have heard some good words of Adolf Hitler and some of Francisco Franco and some even of Judas Iscariot, but hardly ever have I heard good words of William Aberhart. Yet, if there were an election in Alberta tomorrow, Aberhart would be re-elected. And why? 'Why?' I asked, confronting a pretty hostile premier at the entrance to his office on democracy day. 'They would re-elect us even if we had been failures,' said Mr. Aberhart, 'because there is nothing else to which they can turn.'

"Mr. Aberhart didn't want to be quoted at first. I met him by appointment (after watching him enjoy one of his famous breakfasts at the Macdonald hotel) and he came out of his office and stood over me at the door and told me what a sinful and perfidious craft I belong to. 'I gave many interviews,' he said, 'and almost every time the interviewers lied about me or distorted what I said.' So I thought it was going to be tough, and had heard that in any case he wouldn't stand for cross-examination, but soon he was talking, especially after I had told him, which was sincere, that I found even his enemies said that his government hadn't been so ruinous after all.

"Yes," he said, 'they say no new capital will enter the province, but in Edmonton alone new department stores are being built by the Hudson's Bay and Eaton's and another company.' They say also that a lot of capital left Alberta, I remarked. 'I think not,' replied Mr. Aberhart. 'A few took their savings out, of course. A few of the panic-stricken, and more important, a few of the panic-mongers. But that amounted to nothing.' 'They say that you took your own capital out,' I said suddenly.

Turner Valley Oil Field Boon To West

Development of Turner Valley as an oil field has been a big factor in saving this year 5½ million dollars for western farmers in the prices of their gasoline and tractor fuels.

Prices are lower because refiners have been able to use the supply of crude oil near at hand. Savings have been made in freight charges and these have been passed on to the consumer.

In point of fact, the actual saving is substantially more, if one could accurately compute it. The 5½ millions is figured on the basis of 1937 consumption of petroleum products, a year in which there was a poor crop. This year prairie farmers are in a better position with better crops. Cost of their equipment and supplies for operation is lower.

Obviously also, the consumption of gasoline and distillates will be greater than last year when the crop failed. Thus a calculation on the basis of the 1937 crop necessarily falls short in showing the actual savings in 1938.

"Again there was no real explosion. 'They lie,' he said. 'They say I transferred money to Seattle and Vancouver or somewhere. It's a dirty lie.'

"Doing God's Work"

"They tell me you are a dictator and want to be a dictator.' He threw up his hands. 'I swear that I actually dislike the premiership of Alberta and stay here only because I believe I am doing God's work.'

"And they say,' I concluded, 'that you don't even believe in Social Credit yourself.' 'It is my lode star and my dream,' said William Aberhart."

The Havas News Agency reported that R. B. Bennett, retired leader of the Canadian Conservative party, announced he intends to settle down in England. The former prime minister recently obtained an option on a country house in Surrey, about 40 minutes ride from the centre of London, the report said.

A Horse Advises How To Treat A Man

When a man drops from sheer exhaustion or illness, promptly seize an endboard or a car stake and pound him on the head and on the ribs. If this does not fully recuperate him, kick him violently in the stomach. This will restore him if persistently adhered to.

If a man finds his load too heavy, and feels that it will strain him to proceed, kick off a fence-board, and knock him down and then hammer him thoroughly. This will give him renewed energy and he will make no fuss. But do not, on any account, reduce his load.

If a man refuses to drink when you give him water, do not give him any water for two days. That will "teach him" to be thirsty at any time you find it convenient to attend to him.

It is a good plan to ply the whip frequently on a man who is at work. No matter if he is doing his best, hit him now and then on "general principles," and prevent him from taking any comfort. If his load is not too heavy, oblige him to go much faster to make up for it.

Tie your man's head back in an unnatural position with his eyes towards the sun. This will give him a fine appearance and prevent stumbling. In winter remove his clothing to "prevent his taking cold." He will also dry quicker when you overwork him. Men thus treated are much healthier than when allowed to wear winter clothing.—Brooks Bulletin.

race and language, from Nazi organizers have penetrated into these districts to preach the Nazi gospel and fetter their governments in the event of a European war. It is anything but ethical to do such things in a country with which it is presently at peace, but Germany does not mind doing it, nor does Russia. Citizens of American countries who fall for such intrigue and propaganda are liable to find themselves in trouble should their countries become involved.

The severity of the Versailles Treaty is generally blamed for the disturbed condition of Europe, but Germany's behavior leads us to doubt it. Would lenity have changed German psychology or modified German ambition? The Teuton idea today is what it was in 1914, viz that the Germans are a superior race destined to control Europe if not the whole world. The pan-German map was shaded to run from Berlin to Baghdad. It is now shaded from Berlin to the Adriatic, and in a softer tint to the boot of Italy. Their obsession then was a combination of hallucination of grandeur and persecution-mania. They are taught to believe today as they were then that they are encircled by enemies—they whose kultur and valor and virility qualify them to be the world's masters. A people cherishing such delusions would misunderstand and misuse lenity because it is so foreign to their idea of what a conqueror should exact in the way of reparation, indemnity and punishment.

When Roosevelt or Hull undertake to discuss European matters, German and Italian papers never fail to write about gangster killings and racketeering in the United States. Although G men have done good work, they have not done more than the gangs which are now engaged in killing off each other in Chicago, and the police are willing to wink at it as good riddance of bad rubbish. In New York an investigation is showing how a district attorney and a magistrate stood in with Dutch Schultz who barged into the policy game at Harlem, made millions and then was killed by a rival gangster. They shared in the loot, bribed police to do their bidding and dismissed police who were honest. In the long list of grafters and killers who have figured in American history are German and Italian names. Some of them acquired little empires of their own by methods not unlike those used by Hitler and Mussolini. They organized gangs (parties) that clashed with other gangs; they engaged killers to blot out (purge) rival leaders that threatened their little dynasties; they kidnapped others and held them for ransom like rich Jews in Austria.

No wonder the big shots in Europe look with disdain upon the gang leaders of America and the government that allowed them to flourish so long. If any one of them had brains and ambition, he would have been at the head of the government now and in control of the administration of justice

LINE ELEVATOR COMPANIES AND THE WHEAT BOARD

Attention has been drawn to statements suggesting that Line Elevator Companies opposed the establishment of the Wheat Board and took no part in the advancement of the farmers' case before the Turgeon Commission. These and all similar suggestions are false.

The solution of the wheat question requires the co-operation and goodwill of all those interested in the welfare of Western agriculture.

The 1938 Wheat Board was established because conditions in the international wheat situation demanded it, because that fact was recognized by the Government, and, not least, because all thoughtful Westerners and Western organizations, including the Line Elevator Companies, strongly supported it.

Realizing that union and not dissension amongst all those interested in the progress of Western agriculture and the honest facing of common problems are more than ever necessary and that the greatest disservice that any organization or individual can do in these present difficult times is to spread falsehoods, innuendoes or half truths, the Line Elevator Companies feel it necessary to draw your attention to

The Following Facts:

Before the Turgeon Commission:

1. On the Opening Day. Counsel for the Line Elevator Companies was the first to address the Commission. He analysed the burdens upon Western farmers. He referred to tariffs, interest rate, the cost of things farmers buy, transportation costs, etc.: He said:

(a) "It may be stated that the farmer suffers from the double handicap of buying his goods at costs which are enhanced by a closed market and selling his product on a market in which tariffs and embargoes have been raised against him.

(b) "No one wishes, least of all those whose welfare is his welfare, to leave the farmer the victim of conditions which he did nothing to create.

(c) "At this point I may state that my clients endorse, wholeheartedly, any movement for a relief of the farmers' burdens and for the granting of support, as long as any condition, either national or international, external or internal, render that relief and that support necessary for the maintenance of adequate living standards for farmers and their families."

2. At Calgary. Exhaustive evidence was offered of the increased costs of things which farmers buy. In answer to Mr. Justice Turgeon, Counsel for the Line Elevators, said:

"I want to say, quite firmly, my Lord that the elevator companies do not oppose the establishment of a Wheat Board. Rather, we are all in favour of anything that will give the farmer the necessary protection. As I indicated at the beginning of this Inquiry, our attitude towards this Commission is that we would like to join with everybody else in searching for the best remedy for the ills of the farmers."

3. In the formal written argument—submitted on behalf of the Line Elevator Companies—Counsel said:

"It is submitted that a wheat board organization should be retained and made available for the guarantee of price in case the prevailing world price declines below a fixed figure set to assure the grower the highest minimum price possible for his product."

The 1938 Wheat Board

In 1938 the Line Elevator Companies advocated and supported a Wheat Board and the highest possible minimum price. Oral representations to the Dominion Government were supported by the following letter sent on July 20th, 1938 to the Dominion Cabinet and the Chairman of the Wheat Board:

"We understand from recent Press reports that the minimum price for the current crop year for wheat will be determined and announced by your Board and the Government in the next week or ten days. Our Association placed in evidence before the recent Royal Grain Enquiry Commission the following:

"Volume 1, page 20. 'At this point I may state that my clients endorse wholeheartedly any movement for a relief of the farmers' burdens and for the granting of support as long as any condition, either national or international, external or internal, render that relief and that support necessary for the maintenance of adequate living standards for farmers and their families.'

"And again, Volume 1, page 26, 'If the deliberations of this Commission are to have the constructive effect which it is desired we believe that it should consider the economic position of the Western farmer in the national household. In any enquiry directed towards these ends and in any movement to ameliorate this position I am instructed to state that my clients will wholeheartedly join.' Bearing in mind the welfare of the producers, may we respectfully urge that your Board and the Government give consideration to the relationship between the present costs of necessities and the price of wheat. We understand that recent statistics released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics covering food, fuel, rent, clothing and sundries show that the average cost of these items for the year 1937 to be 31% higher than the cost of the same articles for the year 1913. The average price for No. 1 Nor. wheat in store Fort William for the year 1913 was 88c. The handicap under which we believe our clients are laboring is set forth in the evidence given on our behalf by Mr. L. W. Brockington, K.C., Volume 1, page 16, through 26, of the evidence of the recent Royal Grain Enquiry Commission. It is the hope of this Association that the Government will consider the highest possible minimum price consistent with the welfare of the Dominion of Canada."—Signed C. E. Hayles, President."

After the price was set, in a newspaper interview, Mr. C. E. Hayles said:

"The members of the North-West Grain Dealers' Association are pleased to note that the Dominion Government has recognized the principle that, in the face of adverse international and national conditions, the economic position of the Western farmer is entitled to federal support, even at the risk of loss to the Dominion Treasury. We wish, however, that the Dominion Government had been able to guarantee a higher price."

LINE ELEVATOR COMPANIES

instead of having to bribe magistrates district attorneys and ordinary policemen for protection. He would still require an armed bodyguard against enemies and rivals whom he had outwitted in his march to power, but the state, not he, would pay for that.

A novel suggestion comes from the Toronto Globe and Mail, Liberal, that the federal government invite Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett to take the chairmanship of the Rowell Commission, as Mr. Rowell is incapacitated by illness, and the progress of its work hampered by friction coming from the governments of Alberta, Ontario and Quebec. How Mr. Bennett will react to the suggestion we do not know, nor do we know how the Commission will react. When it was first appointed, Mr. Bennett referred to it as a parcel of Britts. He might not want to work with them now that an impasse has been reached, but for that reason they might agree to work with him to remove the impasse or have him accept a portion of the responsibility for it. Now that he is no longer leader of the Conservative party there would be no political reason for declining to give him some measure of credit for success, if any, while sharing with him some measure of blame for the more probable outcome of failure.

Feeder Policy For Western Farmers

Hon. J. G. Gardiner Announces Plan Now Operative For Winter Feeding of Stock

Hon. J. G. Gardiner has announced a plan operative from Sept. 1 to Dec. 31 for the purchase of stock for feeding purposes.

The policy provides for the refund of the one-way travelling expenses of farmers, or agents of farmers, who purchase certain classes of stock for feeding purposes, subject to conditions as outlined in the policy itself.

Farmers from prairie provinces may purchase cattle or sheep at the Saskatoon sale on Sept. 28 and 29 or the Moose Jaw sale, October 4, 5, 6 and 7, or at country points and stock yards.

Also prairie farmers may purchase cattle of the designated classes at the William Lake Stocker and Feeder Show and Sale and from range herds in the interior of British Columbia.

Information respecting stock listed for sale at country points, as well as detailed particulars regarding the terms of the policy, may be obtained through the agents of the Dominion Department of Agriculture at the various stockyards. Information will also be available at the office of the Western Stock Growers' Association, 28 Michael Building, Calgary. Any further information desired may be obtained from the director, production service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. It is particularly recommended that intending purchasers obtain outlines of the policy and thoroughly acquaint themselves with its provisions before proceeding to purchase.

In the southern part of Alberta, 54 elevators opened up this year which were closed last season.

Nazis ambitions. An Olive Branch In his 78 minute address to 25,000 persons Hitler relieved apprehension somewhat by reasserting Germany's readiness to let bygones be bygones, and renounced all aspirations for review of the Versailles treaty with a view to regaining Alsace-Lorraine. He said: Strasbourg means much but we have surrendered it in the interests of peace to settle for once and for all the eternal strife with France.

"On other frontiers too we have made sacrifices. We have acted more than loyally."

An impressive record of Germany's rearmament activities was given, including fortifications in the west; on the French, Belgian and Swiss frontiers. He saw each day 8000 freight cars carry 100,000 tons of material to these frontiers.

Sacrifice for Peace Recounting sacrifices for peace made by Germany, he included the limitation of German naval tonnage to 35 per cent of Britain's; the accord with Poland (a 10-year pact of friendship and non-aggression between Germany and Poland was signed Jan. 26, 1934); assurances of the inviolability of the Italian and Swiss frontiers and concrete suggestions made by him at various times for Europe's appeasement.

As a further evidence of Germany's wish to peace, he cited the suppression of all ideas of revenge in the radio, motion picture, press or even literary fields.

"No country in the world has done more for peace than Germany," he said.

Alta. Rate Low In Auto Fatalities

While deaths from motor vehicle accidents increased in Canada in 1937 there was a falling off in Alberta; according to figures issued recently by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

As a matter of fact, fewer persons were killed in auto accidents in Alberta last year, in proportion to population, than any other part of Canada, with the exception of Saskatchewan.

Last year there were 55 deaths from motor accidents in Alberta, as against 72 the year previous. The death rate was 7.1 for each 100,000 of population, compared with 16.5 in British Columbia, 9.2 in Manitoba and 20.8 in Ontario.

Saskatchewan, however, led all provinces, reporting only five deaths per 100,000 of population.

Improvement in the fatal accident situation in this province is shown by the fact that the death rate in 1936 was 9.3 compared with 7.1 last year. In fact, the Alberta rate has been declining steadily since 1928, when it reached the high point of 11.4.

Official figures show that deaths from motor accidents in Canada reached the record total of 1,626 last year, as against 1,316 in 1936 and 1,224 in 1935.

Canada will have about 230,000,000 bushels to export from this year's crop. Home consumption will be about 120,000,000 bushels.
